03 / IDENTITY

Artist profile

An interdisciplinary practice connecting composition, research, poetry and code.

BERK KÖKSAL / ISTANBUL

Composer, guitarist, vocalist, songwriter, arranger, record producer and mixing/mastering engineer. His wider creative interests include software development, poetry and independent research into the Quran.

Origins and creative direction

Born in Istanbul on 19 December 1980, Köksal first encountered the guitar through his father. He began classical guitar study around the age of twelve or thirteen. He later transcribed music by ear, using Guitar Pro and MIDI to arrange multiple instruments. This expanded his perspective from solo guitar to bass, percussion, strings and harmony.

His background in neoclassical guitar, Western classical music, rock and metal developed alongside independent recording, orchestration and sound design. Beginning in 2024, the remembrance of ONE GOD became central to his new work; by 2025–2026 it had developed into two distinct musical frameworks.

Fields of creative work

Composing

Guitar & voice

Orchestration

Mix & master

Sound design

Poetry & prose

Web software

Quran studies

“Music is not my goal; it is my way of glorifying GOD.” – Translated from the artist’s official biography

04 / TIMELINE

A creative timeline

From classical guitar to digital orchestration, sacred music and software research.

1992-93

Classical guitar

Structured guitar study and first explorations of polyphonic technique following early musical experiments.

1990s

MIDI & Guitar Pro

Ear-based transcription, tablature sharing and arrangements written for multiple instruments.

2000s-10s

Independent studio

Developing expertise in recording, MIDI, orchestration, sound design, mixing and mastering.

2019-24

Research years

Long-term reading of the Quran and a spiritual transformation described in his personal account.

2022

Requiem Concerto

A large-scale work emphasizing neoclassical guitar and dramatic writing.

2024

First zikr releases

31 August: publication of Zikir (La ilahe illa Allah) on YouTube; the album Tanrı'nın Hediyesi.

2025

Zikr Symphony

Nineteen principal works, with an additional 19-part structure inside the final composition.

2026

Two musical worlds

Expansion of Neo-Sacred Zikr and the emergence of the separate QURANIC CONCEPTS / HELLL project.

Dates and milestones are summarized from the artist's published biography and discography.

05 / CREATIVE WORLDS

One source, two directions

Neo-Sacred Zikr and QURANIC CONCEPTS are related, yet structurally distinct, musical projects.

01 / REMEMBRANCE

NEO-SACRED ZIKR

A musical world centered on zikr, remembrance and the glorification of ONE GOD. Genres may change; repetition, collective voices and contemplative space serve the act of remembrance.

SONIC PALETTE

Symphonic writing, choir, ambient, progressive rock, metal, rap, jazz, piano, ney flute and pipe organ.

02 / SUBJECT FIRST

QURANIC CONCEPTS

Each album begins with a Quran-centered subject, scene, voice or question. The concept determines the dramaturgy, not the other way around.

METHOD

Choose a subject → examine sources → map voices and scenes → design tempo, instrumentation and silence → compose.

THE DISTINCTION

Neo-Sacred Zikr: repetition supports remembrance and prayer.

QURANIC CONCEPTS: repetition may represent waiting, judgment, confinement or another narrative principle.

A key distinction: Quranic source material and artistic dramatization must not be confused.

CATALOGUE SNAPSHOT / 08 OCT 2026

11 Neo-Sacred Zikr albums + 1 QURANIC CONCEPTS album (HELLL) = 12 album projects represented on the site. Separately released singles are not included.

HELLL / THE INFERNO

HELLL

A 19-track, Quran-centered concept album. Hell, judgment, remorse, thirst, imprisonment and accountability unfold as one continuous sonic narrative.

XIX

AT THE THRESHOLD

The narrative begins before the first word: heartbeat → hospital monitor → flatline → death. Choir, guitar, imagery of fire and industrial textures then open the album's world. Two recurring figures are a lone violinist who continues playing and the deeply layered "Hell Choir".

MUSICAL ARCHITECTURE

Progressive / symphonic extreme metal · Funeral doom · Neoclassical writing · Choir · Cinematic sound design.

The final track, NINETEEN, contains 19 internal sections; the official album page lists a running time of 19:19.

Source note: Verse references are the artist's own mappings on the album website. Imagined scenes and dramatic links are artistic interpretations, not direct quotations from the Quran.

10 / PRODUCTION

One-Man Production

An independent approach linking musical concepts, performance, recording and sonic design.

The artist's biography and HELLL credits describe a unified creative and technical practice. Köksal works directly on compositions, guitar and vocals, orchestration, MIDI programming, arrangements, mixing, mastering, sound design and visual concepts.

AN END-TO-END CREATIVE WORKFLOW

SOUND AND COMPOSITIONAL MATERIALS

INSTRUMENTS

Electric guitar · Piano · Orchestral strings · Pipe organ · Ney flute · Harp

VOICES

Solo voice · Female/male vocals · Children's choir · Choral layers

STRUCTURE

Neoclassical motifs · Symphonic form · Atmosphere · Repetition · Silence

This workflow is illustrative, not a claim that every album follows an identical production sequence.

XIX / WHY NINETEEN?

For the artist, 19 is a deliberate structural motif linked to his Quran research. Several albums contain 19 tracks, while the finales of Zikr Symphony and HELLL also reflect this number. Numerical and theological interpretations are documented as the artist's personal research and belief framework, not established doctrine.

14 / ARCHIVE ABSTRACT

Archival overview

A concise, searchable profile for international readers, libraries and digital archives.

BERK KÖKSAL / ARTIST IDENTIFIER

Berk KÖKSAL is a Turkish composer, guitarist, vocalist, songwriter, arranger, independent record producer, mixing/mastering engineer and software developer. Born in Istanbul in 1980, he works across neoclassical guitar, orchestration, contemporary devotional music, Quran-centered concept albums, poetry and code.

Two distinct creative systems

Neo-Sacred Zikr uses repetition, vocals and diverse musical styles to focus on the remembrance of ONE GOD. QURANIC CONCEPTS follows a separate album-making method: a Quranic subject guides the musical language, dramatic structure, voices and visual world of each project.

A developing discography, 2024–2026

Tanrı'nın Hediyesi (2024) and Zikr Symphony (2025) form the early foundation of Neo-Sacred Zikr. The 2026 catalogue includes Zikr Huu, Zikr Nur, ZIKR ROCK, Classical Chorus, One God One Love, ZIKR RAP, Zikr-i Batın, ZIKR JAZZ and ZIKR SYMPHONIC METAL. The separate QURANIC CONCEPTS debut, HELLL (2026), has 19 tracks built around Quranic images of judgment, confinement, regret and consequence.

Writing, research and software

Köksal publishes reflections on the Quran and poetry on his bilingual website. His public GitHub profile, berkgitarist, provides source code for the Astro-powered official website and KuranTeyit, an independent Quran study app offering verse search, parallel-language reading, notes, audio and PWA features. His professional history includes e-commerce, procurement, inventory and digital operations.
